Oldest living Rochester Resident receives special honor

Henry B. Hartley took out his best suit and called the many members of his family to make sure they would be present for what he has deemed "something pretty special."

His family surrounding him as he sat in his hand-made garage, 95-year-old Hartley looked at them proudly, and accepted the Boston Post Cane from Selectmen Chairman Michael Murphy for being the oldest resident in Rochester.

When given a beautifully decorated cake made by his 85-year-old cousin, Mrs. Florence Taylor, Mr. Hartley couldn't resist letting out a burst of excitement. "Whoo-Hoo," he said, entertaining the crowd of people surrounding him. As the cake was cut in half, somebody asked him which half he would take.

Mr. Hartley worked in the Rochester Sawmill with his brothers in the 1940s. He proudly admits he has worked in Rochester his whole life. When asked how he felt the day he received the cane he said the cane was "very nice." "It's something special. I've got a lot of stuff. I was the first Fire Chief in Rochester," he added. His brother was the Rochester Forest Warden. He also moved to Freetown for a while when his wife's father gave them a cottage there, but he inevitably ended up back in Rochester. "It was too far away (from Rochester), he said. His first year back, in 1943, his brother died. Hartley was the Fire Chief from 1944-1954. A shiny plaque in his garage helped remind him of how many years he had been chief. In 1961, he went to spend some time in Florida for a while, but returned to the place he has always known as his home. "I always wanted to get back here," he said. He had one child, Muriel Savaria, and four grand-children, Warren Bassett, Susan Weigel, Bradford Bassett and David Bassett. He has five great-grandchildren. Mr. Hartley was more than willing to share some stories about his life in Rochester. He said he remembers when he built his house in 1961. Today, things are much different. "Today, they got to measure every brick that gets laid," he said.

He was married for 70 years to a lovely lady by the name of Grace. She died this past March, surely a heart-breaking experience. "She just melted right down," he said solemnly. But he was quick to point out his family has been there for him, as he has for them. "It's a good thing, I got family. I've got a great family," he said in between bites of cake and ice cream. His family looked on, admiring this man who is five-short-years from being a century old.

He said he plans to use the gold-tipped cane, but woefully admits, "I might forget it."

His dog came up to see if there was any chance of him getting any cake. "That dog will lift the cake right off the spoon," he said jokingly. His great-grandchildren ran and played, sitting on his lap from time-to-time.

Jacqueline Bassett, the wife of his grandson Brad, said Mr. Hartley was excited about receiving the cane. "He called me up on the phone to find out if I was coming," she said holding the newest great-granddaughter, Melissa. His youngest grandson David said Mr. Hartley got his suit all ready for the occasion.

The Boston Post Cane was started some 30-40 years ago by the Boston Post. They gave each town and city a cane to be presented to the oldest living resident. "David (Hughes) has given the cane about four or five times," said Chairman Murphy. "This is one of the few moments you get (serving as Selectman) that's real enjoyment," Murphy said happily.

Even if Melissa is too young to remember her great-grandfather's honorary party, she'll undoubtedly know about her roots, deeply embedded in this little town called Rochester.

Ironically, following the presentation of the Boston Post Cane, a 90-year-old woman was attending the Rochester Selectmen's meeting. But this just wasn't any woman. She was the first woman Town Clerk in Rochester, Evelyn Aiken. "I turned 90 on August 17," she said, her vivid blue eyes looking youthful. She said she served from 1970-1984. "That was some job, I had to get everything organized. I had an office as big as the corner of the back of the Selectmen's office," she said. "I had a little cubby hole," she added.

"It was interesting work, it looks much different now," she said wistfully. She said when she first started her job, there was no ladies' room inside the building. She said she wallpapered it and scrimped and saved the money to remodel the bathroom. "In those days, I made $1,100 a year," she said. "I worked eight days a week," she said grinning. One of the things she most enjoyed about her job was genealogy. "I loved genealogy, I did several of them."

Along with "running the town," Ms. Aiken started up the Senior Citizens club, the Council on Aging and a few more organizations. She recalled the time they used to vote in the old fire station. "We built booths and now it looks like something," she said proudly. "I kept pushing and pushing to get rugs put in (the Selectmen's office). I was always saving," she added. Things have changed dramatically. "Now they've got everything modern. We had nothing but old junk back then," she said playfully. Ms. Aiken lives in Fairhaven. She also lived in Maryland where she did research for a doctor. Ms. Aiken has her Master's degree in Psychology. She doesn't let her age get in the way of anything she does. She has been known to travel and drives herself around. She said she walks where she has to get to in Fairhaven. "My insurance company was surprised at the low mileage on my car," she said. Being 90 does have a few drawbacks. For instance, she said last time she went to church in Rochester, she didn't recognize anybody. Most of her friends have passed on. But that hasn't stopped her from enjoying her life. The town of Rochester certainly has her to thank for her persistence in shaping and improving the town.

of Selectmen's meeting held on August 22, 1995. First they granted a commercial quahog license to Mr. Stephen Brown. They also approved a certificate of Election for the Town Clerk. There are several meetings scheduled throughout the week. Wednesday, August 30th, will be the final band concert. On August 30, there will be a Mattapoisett Public Schools Building Needs Committee at the Town Hall at 7:30 pm. Ms. Adams noted the Town Hall will be closed on Monday, September 4 in observance of Labor Day. Next they received correspondence from Mrs. Pat Aleks relative to last week's North Street discussion. At last week's meeting Chairman Lambalot explained why they were counting cars on North Street. She said she attended the meeting to ask what is going on with the North Street project and felt that Mr. Mahoney chose not to discuss it at last week's meeting.

"When I stated that I thought that no further work was going to be done until there was a public meeting informing the people of what is being planned, I was angrily informed by Mr. Mahoney that I was wrong," she wrote in a letter to Selectmen. Selectman Mahoney said he didn't angrily respond to her. "I simply stated what I knew, to avoid a misunderstanding. That's why we came up with the public notice (to explain North Street plans). I was frustrated the public notice didn't do the trick," he said. He apologized for the misunderstanding. Chairman Lambalot assured her everyone is welcome to attend Selectmen's meetings to "speak their peace."

Selectmen also received letters from Richard A. Fluegel, Lynn Sylvia and Joseph Booth expressing their concern with the proposed North Street reconstruction project and requesting a public hearing be scheduled as soon as possible. Chairman Lambalot said he received the results from the machine counting cars from August 16 through August 23. He noted the average daily traffic is around 4,000 cars. He said he is calling Tibbett's Engineering to set up a meeting to see what traffic counts mean and to see what amount of traffic is recommended from the state for a road design. He said they could be looking at two 12-foot lanes with four-foot sidewalks, but eliminating the bicycle path. He said he also plans discuss grass strips. He said with the results of the traffic flow, he plans to find out from the state if they can build something that small and get help from the state. One concerned resident said she knew many people that would rather see it done their way and not the state's way. "I think you'll find a good number of people in town would rather see it paid through their taxes than paid through the state and take away from the ambience of the town," said Mrs. Lynn Sylvia. "That's why we want to discuss this with Tibbetts," Chairman Lambalot said.

Selectman DeCosta said they understood where she was coming from. "We don't want to take away from the beauty of the street," he noted. When asked if there was a chance the road could be just repaved, Chairman Lambalot said no. "Because of the drainage," he said.

Selectmen said they hoped to hold a public hearing by mid October.

from Fairhaven. She said she has had to have her water tested several times, costing her and her husband about $200 because of high bacteria in her water. "There are no hydrants or easy access in case of an emergency," she said. She asked if a line could be extended so she and other residents could use Fairhaven's water. Mr. Nicholson said he has contacted the Fairhaven BPW. He said he will find out what requirements there are for a tie-in, then they must appropriate monies to do the work. He suggested betterment fees as one way of paying for the services. Selectman Mahoney said the most expensive part was the pumping station. "That's a major expense," he said. Mrs. Rigby said most people on her street didn't drink their well-water and had to buy it from the stores. "Please don't let this go into the dead files," she said. Mr. Nicholson said he would pursue the matter.

Selectmen then discussed the merger of the Shawmut and Fleet Banks. Selectman Mahoney has been asked to find out if Selectmen think the merger would be detrimental to the town. Some branches might have to be closed to enhance competition. Mattapoisett's branch is at the top of the list. Selectmen made a note to find out what would become of the vacant building. There being no further business before the Board, the meeting was adjourned at 8:00 pm.

Sippican Choral Rehearsals

The Sippican Choral Society begins the 1995-1996 season with its first regular rehearsal on Monday, September 11, at the Congregational Church Community Center in Marion. New members are welcome to join the chorus simply by coming to the first rehearsal. Rehearsals begin promptly at 7:30 every Monday night. All voices are welcome (soprano, alto, tenor, and bass), and tenors are especially encouraged to sing with the chorus this year. As always, everyone who has sung with the chorus in past years will be welcomed back.

Peter West, Director of the chorus, requests that both returning members and new members who cannot make the first rehearsal call him at 758-4553 or Chorus President, Lynn Danse at 748-3653 to let it be known they intend to sing this year.

The Choral Society's annual Christmas Concert will feature Vivaldi's "Gloria" plus special Christmas music including "Once in Royal David's City," sung in procession; Vittoria's "Ave Maria;" "Lo How a Rose" by Praetorius; and the traditional English carol, "What Child is This," with flute solo. The concert will be held on December 3 at Tabor Academy's Wickenden Chapel in Marion. A special feature of this year's Christmas Concert will be the performance of several pieces by Tabor Academy's Madrigal Singers under the direction of Matt Richards.

Now celebrating its 31st season, the Sippican Choral Society is under the direction of Peter West, with Corinne Peck as accompanist. The group performs at least two concerts every year, singing works by many of the world's great composers as well as lighter works from the musical theatre. Last December, for instance, the Sippican Choral Society performed Haydn's "Missa Brevis" and Pergolesi's Magnificat, while the chorus's Spring Concert consisted of selections from the great choral works of the western world. For further information about joining the Sippican Choral Society this year, please call Lynn Danse at 748-3653 or Peter McDonald at 748-0358, both in Marion.

Marion Art Center

Actor/comedian James Waterston is coming back to the Marion Art Center for two shows, August 31 and September 1. The Improv Comedy evenings earlier this month were sell-outs, and the Mattapoisett summer resident has agreed to return with another friend, Sam Boileau, to perform the classic "Good Evening" by Dudley Moore and Peter Cook. "Good Evening" is a comedy revue with music, comprised of sketches, interviews, auditions, even madrigals and unusually funny situations sometimes quite sophisticated yet universally humourous. Waterston has performed with New York's Malaparte Theater Company and film credits

The Plumb Library

The Plumb Library's preschool storyhour series will begin on Wednesday, September 20th. The series takes place each Wednesday morning at 10:30 am and is open to Rochester children ages 3-5. Each week there will be stories, songs, crafts and a chance for children to interact. There will be two sessions this year:September-December and January-May. Those interested may sign up for one session only at this time. Registration starts on September 2nd. To register, call the library at 763-8600, or sign up at the main desk during library hours.

The Plumb Library's Homework Center will be open again this school year, and the library is looking for people interested in being homework coaches. Coaches are available for a few hours each week to assist students with homework assignments, helping them find appropriate library materials, helping them understand their assignments and organize their thoughts. We will be conducting one-on-one training sessions over the next few weeks. Anyone interested in getting involved in this worthwhile project should contact Lucy at the library during library hours.

The library will be starting a Toy Exchange in the children's section of the library. Kids are invited to bring in their old toys (good condition only please) that they no longer play with. If a child sees a toy at the library that they would like to take home, they can borrow it for a few weeks or a few months!

NO BALLGAME TODAY, GEORGE

If you've ever tried to sell your own home, I'm sure it didn't take long to discover that it's a full time job. "Sorry, George, but you can't go to the ballgame today, we have to show the house at 2 p.m. " A familiar tune ?

If you sell your home the professional way, through our office, you'll not only get the best price for it, but you won't have to be a slave to it. Turn the keys over to me, George, and go to the ballgame. No longer will you have to stay home all weekend. You won't be missing a beat. In fact, most experienced agents prefer NOT to have the owner about when they bring prospects by. Prospects feel freer to discuss the house when you aren't around.

The very fact that it's you who may be showing them around your home will inhibit prospects. They may not feel comfortable making a thorough inspection as they would with us. As a result, Mrs. Prospect might overlook the very feature she wants that could close the sale. Making sure nothing is overlooked is our job.

The Children's Musuem

The "Thermometer Man," Richard T. Porter, will kick off fall programs at the Dartmouth Children's Museum. Hi, Lo, Fahrenheit, Celsius, or Kelvin; our daily outdoor temperature affects us all to varying degrees. The "Thermometer Man" of Onset will be bringing part of his unique collection to the museum on Sunday, September 10th at 1:30 pm as part of our collector series.

Since 1593 when Galileo invented his thermometer, thermometers have helped gauge our lives. Porter supports the world's only museum housing 2,200 instruments representing 90 world wide makers. Porter guarantees a presentation that will match or exceed any you have ever had and promises an hour of nonviolence, warm collecting stories, fascinating history and several dozen real cool thermometers out of the world's largest collection according to the Guinness Book of Records.

Porter first became interested in thermometers while teaching science in Lexington, where he taught school for 30 years and was chairman of the Junior High School Science Department. After retirement he started collecting thermometers from all over the world and his collection has been written about in a dozen national magazines. Porter believes the thermometer is under represented at most museums and states that you won't believe he can talk for 45 to 60 minutes about thermometers. Take a journey through history with Richard Porter on Sunday September 10th; refreshments will be served and the lecture will appeal to all family members. The program is free with the price of museum admission. Please call 993-3361 for further information. The Children's Museum is at 276 Gulf Road, South Dartmouth.

C. Stone." These en plein air paintings reflect Mr. Stone's adventurous spirit. "En plein air" is an expression used to describe a picture painted out of doors, in which the artist attempts to render qualities of light and atmosphere. The idea was adopted by many Impressionists. Paintings in the exhibition include: Cabo de Hornos, Green Water, Drake Passage, and Isla Deceit. This large body of work is intended for Mr. Stone's latest literary project. Join the New Bedford Whaling Museum for an interesting evening. The multimedia presentation by Bourne Knowles and Peter C. Stone will be held at the Museum Theater followed by an Exhibit Opening.

The Nemasket Group

The Nemasket Gallery has begun planning its Fifth Annual Holiday Bazaar to be held on Saturday, November 18th. Recently the Gallery has experienced a large decrease in visitors and we feel that it is directly related to the loss of the Fairhaven Bridge. We are especially concerned because the Bazaar is the Gallery's only fundraiser of the year and neither the Gallery nor the fine craftspeople who exhibit at the Bazaar can afford for it not to be financially successful. Since it has become so difficult to draw people from New Bedford and Dartmouth, the Gallery is searching for ways to motivate them to get on the highway and drive over. More than one holiday event in Fairhaven on the same day could be such a motivation. We would like to hear from other organizations in Fairhaven interested in collaborating on additional holiday events for November 18. Bazaars, open houses at Fairhaven businesses, special menus at restaurants for the day, music in front of town hall-any idea is worth discussing. The event could be called "Celebrate Fairhaven" and billed as a way to begin the Holiday season early on November 18th. The Nemasket Gallery will be able to help with press releases, Squadron's boating course will be held at 7:30 pm on Tuesday, September 12, 1995 at Old Rochester Regional High School (Route 6 in Mattapoisett, near the Marion/Mattapoisett line). Boaters can save on insurance if they take a basic boating course like this. Statistically, boating course graduates have good safety records, making them better risks for marine insurance companies. In the six two-hour sessions of the course, students will be introduced to the basics of 14 subjects. Reading charts and understanding aids to navigation, safe boat operation, elementary seamanship, sailing, engine trouble-shooting, course plotting practice, boating equipment required by federal and state regulations, radio-telephone procedures, boat handling, docking and undocking, weather prediction, trailering your boat, and marlinspike seamanship (tying knots that hold) are the subjects. The seventh session is a final exam. A United States Power Squadron Certificate of Completion is awarded to everyone who completes the course and passes the final exam.

Anyone is welcome to sign up for the course. There are no age restrictions. Boat ownership is not required. Instruction is free, the only cost being for materials plus $5 to help defray the cost of the classroom rent. If you are starting from scratch, it's a Garlic is one of the most remarkable of the world's medicinal plants. It protects cardiovascular health by lowering cholesterol and triglyceride levels and inproving the ratio of high- to low-density lipids in the blood-stream. It also lowers blood pressure and thins the blood, reducing stroke risk without the toxicity of aspirin. With heart disease weighing in as our leading cause of death, it makes sense to include garlic in our daily health care routine.

Your Guide To Buying And Caring For Diamonds

Ten Tips for Buying a Diamond

4. Color. Diamonds are found with a range of colors, from faint yellow or brown through to the very rare blues, greens, pinks and other colors known as "fancies." However, the less color a diamond has, the rarer it is. It is a totally colorless diamond that allows white light to pass effortlessly through it and be dispersed as rainbows of color. And to give a woman such a diamond is to show your true colors, as well.

5. Clarity. To determine a diamond's clarity, it should be viewed under 10-power magnification by a trained eye. Most diamonds contain very tiny natural birthmarks known as inclusions. However, the fewer and smaller the inclusions are, the less likely it is that they will interfere with the passage of light through the diamond, and the more beautiful the diamond will be. Diamonds, more than any other gemstone, have the capability to produce the maximum amount of brilliance. A diamond that is free of both inclusions and surface blemishes is very rare and therefore more valuable. So the clearer the diamond, the clearer the choice.

6. Carat-weight. The carat is the unit of weight for diamonds. One carat is divided into 100 "points" so that a diamond of 75 points weighs .75 carats. Carat-weight is the easiest of the 4C's to determine. But two diamonds of equal weight can have very unequal value, depending on their cut, color and clarity. Fine quality can be found in diamonds of all shapes and sizes. And a fine quality diamond is a little extra weight she'd be pleased to put on.
